

SELECTMEN 'RAISE CAIN'

The Wilmington Board of Selectmen, by a three to nothing vote, Monday night called for a public hearing to revoke a gasoline license held by Fred F. Cain, prominent legislator and automobile agency owner.

The license is for a plot of land that is now vacant 581 Main Street across from the Fred F. Cain garage. The motion to hold the public hearing was by Selectman James Miceli, with Selectmen Boylen and MacDonald voting in favor, and Mrs. Drew and Chairman Banda abstaining.

The vote followed a long discussion with Town Counsel Alan Altman, with Mr. Cain being in the meeting room for the last part of

Horribles Parade was Beautiful

The Committee in charge of the Horribles Parade, on Halloween is just as pleased as a bunch of kittens in cream.

There was wonderful parade, last Friday, and for the first time in years the 'lil darlings' were not all over town, opening fire hydrants and causing other damage. It was the quietest Halloween the Wilmington Police had had in years.

Something over 400 marchers were in the parade, which started at the Police Station, and went to the Tennis Courts on Church Street. They were arrayed in all sorts of costumes, and it was almost like a Mardi-Gras. A police cruiser led the parade, followed by the American Legion Color Guard, and the Parade Marshall was Arthur Spear Jr.

The Wilmington Crusaders were unable to be present to provide marching music, but their Junior Corps, the Swordsmen, provided a very satisfactory drum cadence, for the parade.

Dozens of volunteers, including the ladies of the Police Department, helped in various ways. The Wilmington Fire Department provided a gleaming Fire Truck, and then, after it was all over, there were several dozen young fellows and some older ones, who provided a 'clean up' committee.

The Band, or Combo, which provided the music at the Tennis Courts was composed of Ken Willis, Steve Dow and Ron Fawcett.

And the Judges Panel. It was to have been composed of five distinguished residents of Wilmington but instead there were ten:

Rep. Fred F. Cain, Town Manager Sterling Morris, Miss Diane Imbimbo, Bryant Bedell, Atty Jim Banda, Stanley Webber, Shirley Callan, Al Florenza, Marjorie Ella, Mildred Grant and Joan Bachman - each of whom personally reviewed all the contestants, and helped to award the 160 prize ribbons that were given.

Buddy LeRous, Red Sox Trainer, will be one of the luminaries to be at the Sports Nite.

A color film - the Stanley Cup Playoffs of 1969 is to be shown.

Tickets for the Bruins games at Boston Garden are to be given to some of those present, as prizes. They have been donated by the Boston Garden, the Boston Arena Corp., and by Eddie Powers, president of the Arena.

Other holders of Season tickets have given shares of their tickets which are to be given away.

Among the donors are Rep. Fred

F Cain of Wilmington, and Norman Labossiere, Bruce Peters and John Brooks, all of Wilmington.

Other season ticket holders who are donating a part of their tickets include Rocco Vitelli of Dedham, Thomas Parker of Hyde Park, H W Burns of Marblehead, Edward McIntosh of Woburn, and, from Winchester, John Falla, Paul Kelleher, Fred McCormack, Edward LeRoux and Donald Martin.

Could be Interesting

IT COULD BE INTERESTING

If Wilmington's Board of Selectmen go through with their announced intention of conducting a public hearing on the gas license owned by Fred F. Cain, and if they revoke it, the people of Wilmington will probably be presented with what could be the most interesting law suit since the fight over the will of Mrs. Dr. France B. Hiller, back about 1915.

Even for the public hearing, this column feels, there will not be enough room in the Town Hall. The Selectmen might well have to move the hearing to the High School cafeteria, or some such place.

The Selectmen have recently embarked on a course of revoking old and unused gas licenses. No one has any argument with that - it is in the public interest.

But to revoke a gas license that is only four years old - and for which plans were filed with the building inspector last year - that's a horse of a different color.

A gas license on Main Street in Wilmington is worth at least $30,000 today. Wilmington Ford, only two years ago, sold an acre of land and a gas license on Main Street for $60,000. What's an acre of land worth? Deduct that, and the reader has the value, as of that time, of a gas license.

But the point that makes the case really interesting to the public is a phrase in law known as 'bad faith'.

If the license is revoked, Mr. Cain would have a good case, and if 'bad faith' is proved, to the satisfaction of a jury, not just those Selectmen who voted for the revocation would have to pay. They would pay collectively, every one, because they are a board, and not individuals.

Fred Cain has demonstrated that he is interested in that license, he has filed plans, and the Selectmen knew this, before they began their proceedings.

And, if the Selectmen revoke, as well they might, and if Fred Cain sues, as well he might, and if the jury decides in his favor - as well they might, the town may well be given the spectacle of having Selectmen who voted for the license sharing the cost of damages with those who voted to revoke.

It can be a real interesting case.

Danny Gillis defends Barbara White

A Daniel Gillis of the Wilmington Planning Board, in a pre-meeting discussion Tuesday night, defended the position of Miss Barbara White of Fairmeadow Road. Miss White has had discussions about her ducks and dogs, and other animals, with the Selectmen, and neighbors have also done so, the neighbors being the first to do so.

Gillis declared that Miss White has a 'non-conforming use' in that she has lived at her present home for many years, with her ducks, etc., and that the neighbors came into town later.

'She was there when they came, and I'll fight for her, and help her!' 'If you don't walk half a mile around a home before you buy it,

- that's your fault!' Gillis declared

The Meeting

It was a relatively short meeting for the Planning Board - it was all over at 12:30 a.m. Much of the time was spent discussing the plans and progress of the 701 Program which is being conducted with the assistance of Professor Elliot.

The Planning Board will shortly be asking for volunteer citizen help, in 'Citizen's Boards' for the program.

MAPC

Mrs. McKie, Chairlady, and a member of the Executive Board of the Metropolitan Area Planning Council spent half an hour discussing with the Town Engineer the water problems of Wilmington, because of a coming discussion in an MAPC meeting for which she wants to be well prepared.

As a result of the discussion Mr. Harding brought the Board up to date on the water flow studies by a Mr. Esterberg, of the firm of Whitman & Howard, Consulting Engineers.

The work is being done as a result of discussions with the U.S. Corps of Engineers, and as a part of the 702 Public Works Planning Grant of the US Government of two years ago. Mr. Esterberg is establishing bench marks, etc., all over town, to help establish the waterflow of the various streams, and make plans for future drainage and flood control projects that the town may want to undertake.

Not over $30,000 is the sum that was granted to the town, under the 702 Project. The grant came as a result of a motion by the Town Engineer two years ago, in the annual Town Meeting.

The Town Engineer described the work as being 'basically a plan of storm drainage for the entire town'. He said that Mr. Esterberg will produce an estimate of costs for all needed improvements, culverts, drainage channels, etc. for the town. If the Town of Wilmington should decide at a future date to install any of the drainage as planned, it can do so, and only then will the engineering costs have to be repaid to the Federal Government, for that portion of the plans used.

Jackson Park

The Board signed plans for the new Jackson Park, a real estate development to be made at the end of Shawsheen Avenue, near the Billerica line. There are 19 house lots on the plan, and the town is retaining 2.3 acres of land along the riverfront of the Shawsheen River, land between the river and a line which is approximately 10 feet from the bottom of the slope where the land falls, to meet the level of the river.

Other Business

A report was received from the MAPC about the possible impact on each of the cities and towns in its area of Chapter 774 of the Acts of 1969 - the Low Cost Housing Act.

The report showed that the two towns which were accused of having Snob Zoning - Dover and Lincoln, will hardly be affected by the act - only about 50 housing units apiece can be put into those towns.

Some of the cities near Boston could have thousands of housing units and in Wilmington the number is 304 - there having been 3400 housing units in this town in 1960, and there also being the Old Age Housing of 40 units. 304 is the result of subtracting the 40 units from one tenth (340) of the number of housing units in the town.

The board prepared to have discussions with the Board of Selectmen relative to the establishment of an Historic Districts Committee. The committee has to be set up according to standards established by the Department of Community Affairs. The board hopes to meet with the Selectmen next Monday.

A letter was sent to the chairman of the School Committee asking for the latest information on proposals for new schools. A similar letter was sent to the Fire Department asking about the possibility of proposals for new sub-stations for that Department. All this is to be a part of the 701 Program.

Selectmen's Meeting

the discussion. Mr Micell has been questioning the license for the past several weeks.

Mr Altman's opinion was that the selectmen could revoke a gas license 'for cause' after a hearing.

The 'cause' could be a fire hazard, or if any permit was issued for a gas station between July 1 1936 and August 17, 1951, and had not been used for three years.

In answer to questions by the Selectmen he said that a gas license goes with the land, and that in 1968 he had given a written opinion that a gas license was not transferrable 'per se', and that he had reviewed this opinion and still held to it.

However, he said, in this case it was almost a case of 'semantics' since the transfer was made from a site at 580 Main Street to a site at 581 Main Street, both owned by the same man, and had been done with the permission and approval of the Board of Selectmen.

Selectman Boylen asked if there were two licenses, and Altman said flatly 'no' - the Selectmen had revoked one license and issued another.

It was at this point that Cain arrived, and listened to the discussion. He told the Selectmen that he had a permit to erect a gas station and car wash at 581 Main Street, from a variance by the Board of Appeals. Micell told Cain that no one was questioning his permit to put up a car wash, but that the building inspector had said that this was all the permit was for.

Cain said that this could not be true - that the plans showed a gas station, and that was what he was going by. Mrs Drew asked Cain if he was going to build a gas station. His answer was 'yes'.

MacDonald asked Altman if the license at 581 Main Street fell under the 3 year situation. Altman said this was a difficult question to answer, he had found that the applicant himself considers the license to be a 1940 license.

Boylen then said that non-use would be a case for revoking, but Altman said that the Town Clerk had records on the license only back to 1952, not 1940.

Micell immediately moved to have a hearing on the revocation.

Cain, speaking for himself, told the Selectmen he had presented the facts to the Board of Appeals last year, and that the editor of the Town Crier had been present at the time - that the Board of Appeals knew there was a gas station planned, and they couldn't see any problem. He considered the license to be in force.

Micell again pointed out that the building inspector had granted permission for the erection only of a foundation for the car wash. Boylen pointed out that there were three gas stations within 100 yards.

Cain went on to tell the Selectmen that at the time of the hearing to transfer the license to 581 Main Street he had gone through the entire formality, and had notified the abutters by registered mail and had the receipts, including that of the Sun Oil Co., next door.

Boylen quietly suggested to the chairman that the hearing be held two weeks from that night.

Mr Cain was clearly showing signs of stress. He told the Selectmen that his equipment, already bought, was costing him $500 a month, and he had purchased it in good faith, and again said that his application to the Board of Appeals, a year ago, had been for a gas station and car wash.

Again Selectman Micell said that no one wished to revoke the car wash - that they had no jurisdiction over that - but the gas station permit was another thing. This was what had prompted the situation, he said. The permit was only for a car wash.

Banda called for the vote, and, as before reported, he and Mrs Drew abstained from the voting. After some more discussion the hearing was set for November 17th.

The Jensen Farm

The Board of Selectmen decided that the town needed to buy a part of the Jensen Farm, on Andover Street, and that the Town Manager and Alan Fenton should decide how much, and what the price should be.

Mr. Fenton was representing Henry Jensen, who is in Florida. He offered that part of the farm which is easterly of Andover St. for $15,000, land of about 3.5 acres which has been plotted as three house lots. The Board questioned the price, saying that $1000 was a fair price, but Fenton pointed out that the price named by them had been just for a parcel, and this was the entire lot. House lots, the remark was made, were now about $5000 apiece.

White Property

Miss Barbara White of Fairmeadow Road appeared before the board to discuss the flooding of her driveway. She told the Selectmen that there had been an error in the installation of a catch basin, and that she had lost a thousand feet of land by erosion.

In reply to a question by the Chairman Miss White discussed her ducks and dogs, about which there have been complaints. She said that she had only nine ducks, no goats, and some dogs which were restricted, and that the only thing she had ever done to the Shawsheen River (which, it has been alleged, she was filling) was to go into the river to pull out some junk that was there.

She told the Selectmen that she was trying to keep up her property, with the help of some young folk, and as she left she reminded the Board that 'Noah's Ark had two of everything'.

Benson Park

Vandalism at Benson Park was the next subject for discussion. Benson Park is a relatively new real estate development, off Lake Street, or more properly, off South Street. The lady who did the talking was Mrs Ann Linehan, a newcomer to Wilmington.

Mrs Linehan told the Selectmen of the destruction of property by young people from nearby Tewksbury, destruction that was accompanied by some filthy habits. She discussed in some detail the vandalism, and said that the Wilmington police were not patrolling, and then in almost the next breath said that the police cruisers were just taxis, because they took the kids home.

Sterling Morris told her that her case was not unique. He suggested flood lights, and a dog. He told her that he had flood lights for his home and a dog. She could call him, or the police, or both, at the time that any vandalism was going on. It did no good to call afterwards, because by then the culprits were gone. Wilmington, he assured the lady, co-operated, in police matters, with surrounding towns.

Other Business

No one appeared to discuss a 2000 gallon underground gas tank at the Munroe Property, 351 Middlesex Avenue. A license had once been issued to the Waltham Door & Window company at this place, but it had not been picked up since 1963. The Selectmen tabled the discussion until someone appeared from the Munroe Company to discuss it.

The Board was obviously delighted to grant a permit to Capt. Bill Myers of the Wilmington Minutemen, to sell small U.S. flags between Nov. 7 and 15. Mr Banda and Mrs Drew bought the first flags.

A Class One (new automobiles) license was granted to the firm of Taylor and Lord, of Lexington, for the sale of International Harvester Equipment, subject to a franchise by the International Harvester Agency. The license was the former Wilmington Ford site, southerly of Wilmington Square.

The Selectmen, however, would not grant a Class Two license (second hand vehicles).

The vote was unanimous, with Boylen moving and Micell seconding.

The Selectmen signed a agreement with the County Commissioners for Chapter 90 funds for Chapter 90 (highway funds) work at the corner of Lowell and Woburn Streets. There was much belaboring of the County Commissioners wishes for an 80 foot street - and who was going to pay the damages for the land, etc.

Banda reminded the Selectmen of a hearing at the County Commissioners office relative to complaints by Nichols Street people about driveway access, etc.

The Selectmen voted to deny the MBTA the right to put up some proposed signs pointing towards the Wilmington railroad depot, the subject of discussion at a meeting last week. The signs were to have been put up on Route 93, and on Routes 62, 125 and 129. Boylen asked about the MBTA assessments against Wilmington (transportation costs), and Banda read an answer from the MBTA which was somewhat indefinite. MacDonald quickly made the motion to deny, and Boylen seconded. The vote was unanimous.

New Business

Mrs Drew mentioned the condition of Shawsheen Avenue, and referred it to the Town Manager.

Micell said he had had a report that a taxi charged a person $2 to travel between the water tower and St Thomas Church.

Micell then commented on a report by an out of town newspaper about warehouses being installed on Woburn Street and the Northern Industrial Park (Dicenso). Sizes were 100,000 square feet, and 1,225,000 square feet, 560,000 sq. ft. and 450,000 sq. ft. Micell wondered if this was warehousing or a trucking terminal.

Sterling Morris told him that the trucks were an accessory use. Micell then asked for a ruling on 'an accessory use', and how many trucks, and commented 'we're giving a little guy on Andover Street a hard time.'

MacDonald asked the TM about the Olson Road layout (a road between Church Street and Middlesex Ave. near the Fire Station) and the TM, for at least the third or fourth time this year, told the Selectmen that this was to be a part of the Route 129 layout, and

We must turn back to ancient Greece for the beginnings of medicine as we know it today.

There are many references to contemporary medical theories in the earliest Greek writings, and many hints of techniques going even further back. Medicine in ancient Greece was deemed a divine profession.

One of the earliest physicians was Aesculapius. After his death, he was worshipped as a god and temples were erected in his name.

In a sense, many of these temples became our first hospitals.

Several phases of medicine have had unusual beginnings. Fill your prescriptions at SILVER LAKE PHARMACY, 52 Main St. Tel. 658-4617. Cosmetics, Greeting Cards for all Occasions Assorted Candies. Open 9-10 EVERY day.

Operation Speak Out

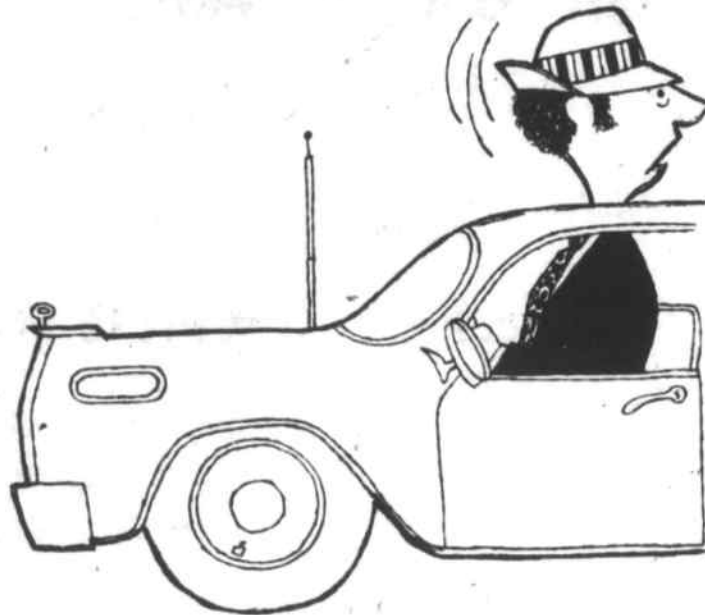

Commander John Faulkner of VFW Post 2458 in Wilmington has asked all community organizations to join the VFW on the week of November 9 - 14 including Vt. Day in the program 'OPERATION Speak Out' to show their support of the government on the Vietnam question.

Commander Faulkner also did say that 'It is the belief of the VFW that the majority of the people in the country do support our men in Vietnam and the position of our government.'

'It seems tragic that there are those in this country who support the position of Hanoi while American servicemen are daily being killed by troupes of Communist

North Vietnam and the Viet Cong. It is time that the silent majority let their will be know. For this program to be effective of the community, I hope that other civic fraternal, patriotic, labor, religious and other organizations will join in this community effort'

Richard Husson works at Hyletronics in spite of...

27 year old Richard Husson, an employee of Hyletronics, on Ainsworth Road was the guest of honor on October 21, at a Handicapped Recognition Committee, at the Woburn Kiwanis club.

Husson, who has worked for Hyletronics since last March as a microwave technician, was singled out for his outstanding achievement in adjusting his handicap as it applies to his profession.

He has been confined to a wheel-chair since 1956, and the doctors tell him his affliction is called transverse myelitis. His wife, Margaret A is also a paraplegic, and works as a secretary at the Massachusetts Rehabilitation Center in Danvers. They met while attending the Hospital School, in Canton, and were married in 1966.

Husson was singled out for nomination for the award, given in an area of eight communities, by Robert Eckberg, his production supervisor at Electronics, and further brought to the attention of the committee by Mrs Doris Durant of Lawrence Street, who has a son who is a paraplegic, having no use of arms or legs.

Husson has been of tremendous assistance to the Durant family, and the Husson family and the Durant family have become personal friends.

The two cars in the Husson family have been adapted for the use of Mr and Mrs Husson as paraplegics, and can be driven by hand controls only. Husson did the job himself, on both cars, as garage work would have been too expensive. A frequent guest of the Hussons, as they drive about, is the Durant boy.

As a microwave technician he has proved himself to be quite talented, and he has enrolled in a three year course, at the Lawrence Vocation School, as of last September, to further his abilities.

But it is not only as a microwave technician, and an amateur garage mechanic that he spends his time.

He is a member of the Hyletronics Bowling Team, of the No. Wilmington Merchants Bowling League, and every Tuesday can be seen at Pleasure Lanes, in North Reading, bowling with the rest of the team.

The son of Mr and Mrs Edward J Husson of Lawrence, he lived for several years in North Reading and has recently moved to Methuen point to a map on the wall, in the meeting room. He assured the Selectmen that he was waiting for information from the state, and their opinion on the layout.

Boyle wanted to know if the Firemen could be relieved of telephone duty by disabled or handicapped people. Morris said he was using 'relief' firemen, and he would have to see if it was practical. Boyle then insisted on an investigation.

The TM asked for a transfer of reserve funds for Fire Department salaries, ambulance duty, sick leave and paid holidays, and for expenses for uniforms. The sum was about $10,000. It was referred to the Finance Committee. Then there was a discussion about the Fire Department pumper and the TM said it was being overhauled. Boyle questioned the wisdom of this, when a new one has been ordered, and as a result the TM is to investigate.

The meeting adjourned at 10:50pm

A Relic of the Past

A relic from the past was dug up Tuesday, by the Highway Department - an old street car rail, from the old Wilmington - Billerica street cars. Actually the railroad (for such it was) ran from Woburn to Billerica, through Wilmington.

The writer is able to date exactly when the street car rails were laid. It was in 1893, the year his father came to this country as a boy, from Denmark. His first job, before he was able to speak English, was to carry ties on his shoulder for the men laying the rails.

There was an item in the Boston papers a few weeks ago, saying that the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Co. had formally surrendered its charter, and gone out of existence. That Eastern Mass was a conglomeration of several street car lines on the early 1900's, including three that ran through Wilmington. One ran from Charlestown up to Silver Lake, one from Woburn to Perry's corner, and the third from Woburn to Billerica.

The street car companies wanted to be able to run from Boston to Lowell, but were prevented by the terms of their franchise. The real reason, of course, was the Boston & Maine, who had the exclusive right to carry passengers between Boston and Lowell.

The street car companies could not run their line from Wilmington to Lowell. So they did the next best thing, and ran one from Wilmington to Billerica, where passengers could transfer to the Lowell - Billerica cars, and thus be able to travel by street car from Boston to Lowell.

In those days, back about 1900, and both earlier and later, it was a great thing for a family to buy an All Day Pass, on a Sunday, and go riding around the country. In the days just before World War I it was possible to ride from Wilmington (if there one lived) to Salem Wil-lows, or to Worcester, or anywhere else, even Canobie Lake, N.H., on a Sunday, enjoy a picnic, and return just after nightfall.

The street car companies in this area were the Bay State, the Boston and Northern, and the Eastern Mass Railroad.

There was a street car garage in Woburn, that serviced this area, on Harrison Street, and another on Main Street, in North Woburn, that was used back in the days of the Horse Cars, say around 1880, and continued in use until sometime about 1920.

From Woburn, too, one could go to Pinehurst, by a line that ran up Winn Street.

The late Raymond Fenton, father of Wilmington's Alan Fenton, Realtor, was one of the 'Operators'.

OLD BETSEY RODE THIS RAIL: Charles Duffy of the Highway Department cuts on of the old rails of the Billerica Street car line, laid back in 1893, in front of the Squires home, at 397 Shawsheen Ave.

The Operator stood in front and operated a switch that controlled the electric motor, and there was a sign which said 'Please do not speak to the Operator while the car is in motion.' It made that operator an important man, in the eyes of the passengers.

Another street car operator was William Parker, who was called 'Steamboat' because of his high squeaky voice. Sometimes he was Conductor, and sometimes he was Operator - it didn't make much difference.

Woburn people called the street car that ran to Billerica the 'Old Joy Line' because it ran through the woods for part of the run - those woods being near where Sweetheart Plastics is now. They would take the trolley to Billerica, and transfer to the trolley to Pinehurst, and then back to Woburn, for a total cost of ten cents - which, incidentally, was worth much more than it is today.

One of the cars that ran to Billerica was dubbed 'Old Betsey' by the Wilmington residents. Raymond Fenton often ran 'Old Betsey' and on one occasion was marooned, by a heavy snow storm, for three days, in a Billerica farmhouse, along with another man named Teddy Lord. Teddy may have been the Operator and Raymond the Conductor, but anyway, for three days they were both 'lost' in the wilds of Billerica, until the tracks were plowed out.

Old Betsey resembled what one calls today the Toonerville Trolley, from the famous cartoon of that name. It stopped at every farmhouse, between Billerica Center and Wilmington Square, on its first run, every morning, to pick up milk - this, of course being in addition to the passengers.

The passengers would be inside the car, and the milk from the farms would be loaded on the front and rear platforms.

The job was more difficult than one would assume, for too much milk in front, or in the rear, would unbalance the car, and it would go off the tracks. Thus, the rule was, at first, one can of milk in front, and then one behind. As the car became more loaded the conductor could take two at a time, in front or in the rear.

The milk was taken to Charlestown, where H P Hood & Sons or the Whiting Milk Company received it, and bottled it. It was an important part of the revenue for the farmers, along the 'Old Joy Line' - a phrase that was never used in Wilmington.

Those street cars did go off the tracks, sometimes quite frequently. It was relatively simple to get them back on the tracks again. There was always a crowbar in the car, and with a little effort the conductor and the motorman would get things running again. If there were a dozen men who were passengers it was much easier, at least on some occasions. They would get out of the car, get a good grip, and give a concerted heave, and Old Betsey would be back on the tracks, ready for action.

When was the last run, for those street cars? The writer isn't certain, but it was sometime about 1923 or 1924. The great god Automobile licked the rural street cars long before it licked the railroads of America.

The men at left are at the old Town Pump, at the head of the Common. The store at the right is where the Baptist Church now stands, and old St. Thomas Church can be distinguished by its belfry, and is now the site of the Wilmington Public Library. (The store was run by Jimmy Kelley, for many years Town Clerk of Wilmington, and also a Selectman).

Thanks to the efforts of Carl and Ann Vayo and Diane Fielding and their helpers, the AFS Car Wash netted $68 towards bringing next year's student over here and sending one of ours over there. By the way, Diane is now taking applications for a student 18 or over, senior year or better who is interested in being an exchange student to a foreign country. She would like to hear from you if you are interested. She is also running a barn sale on Tuesday November 11th at her home on Chestnut Street, the proceeds of which will go to this AFS International Scholarship. If you have a donation, call Diane at 658-8220 or Ann Vayo at 658-8299 for a pickup, or do drop it off at Diane's house. If she's not there, look in the barn with the horses...We do believe that it is the second house on the left and anyway it's not Chestnut, it's HOPKINS ST (Nothing like having you go to the wrong place....Just like me, huh! And then, fifty million telephone calls telling that this Chick had you in the wrong stall...That would not only have the Captain a little upset, but my favorite answering gal, Mary McNamara would probably disconnect me from her switchboard, and this Chick sure wouldn't blame her...What that gal has to put up with with me is something else!)

Glad to hear that Allen Tadgell is back in his stall after successful recovery from surgery at the Congregational Church. He is wishing to thank all of you for your kind remembrances.

This is something...out of the Congo Bulletin...that's really ecumenical work.....St Dorothy's is sponsoring six discussion groups on 'Second Living Room Dialogues' which is a book that is a joint publication of the National Council of Churches and the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine. Through the Wilmington Council, Fr Drennan and Bob Landrigan invite all people to join or visit one of their groups. Interested people, call Bob or Betty Landrigan at 658-2061

Our slogan for the week came from one of the boys we count among our good friend, who is one of the most remarkable people we know to come out on top no matter what the odds. In referring to his Faith and Doctrine, which is different from this Chicks, but with marked similarities to the one she has evolved...and one that she staunchly admires the more she learns of it....He made this statement....Well, Nance this is where it's at....you either THINK OR SINK....so, with his kind permission...There you are folks....This is where it's at!

Chelmsford Smeared

The Wildcats exploded for 19 points over a two minute span in the final period to subdue a Chelmsford eleven 26-0. A sparse gathering of some 1300 chilled fans witnessed a closely fought contest over the first three periods but the explosiveness of the offensive unit changed all that around after the five minute mark in final period.

In other action, Tewksbury remained close to the league leading Wildcats as they bombed hapless No Andover 35-6; Billerica upset Andover 18-12 thus winning their first home game in two years; and Burlington won a thriller from Dracut, 25-19.

The first half found neither team able to move the ball with any consistency as the Lions contained the Wildcats allowing only two first downs compared to five of their own. McNevin had to punt five times as the boys were throttled by the outstanding Lion defense.

The Wildcats struck early in the third period when they marched 55 yards in five plays for the winning touchdown. Two key plays in the drive were a third down pass completion from Bill Gustus to Mike Esposito for a first down at the Lion 40 yard line.

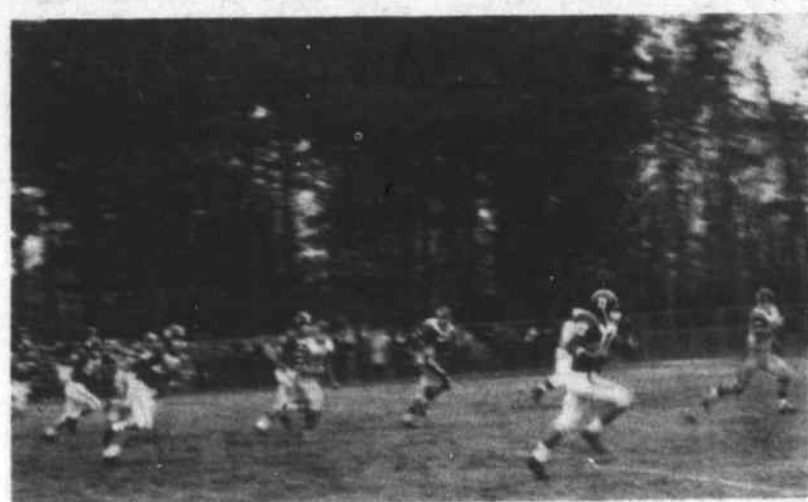

And Dick Gillis the leading ball carrier with 71 yards in 11 carries, ran up the middle and was brought down from behind on the seven yard line. Esposito swept the end for the score and then added the placement for a 7-0 lead. The game reversed back to its earlier form at this point and it was not until the middle of the fourth stanza that the Wildcats were able to put any type of a drive together.

It was a holding penalty to Chelmsford during a fourth down punting situation that got the drive started. The Wildcats, with the fifteen yard penalty, set out and marched 67 yards in 14 plays with Esposito plunging over from the one at 5:52 of the period to make the score 13-0. A bad pass from center foiled the attempt for the point after.

Two plays after the ensuing kickoff senior John McNevin, playing middle linebacker on defense in place of the injured Bill Delisle, picked off on errant Lion pass at the 28. On the second play following the interception Bill Gustus threw a 30 yard scoring pass to senior end Dan Ballou, who made an excellent grab of the ball at the 2 and ran into the end zone for his sixth reception of the season and his third TD this year. Esposito converted and the Wildcats led 20-0 at 7:17 of the quarter.

The same pattern followed the kickoff as the Lion quarterback was victimized this time by reserve defensive back junior Mike Curran. The speedster nearly ran the intercepted pass all the way with the Lion quarterback bringing him down after a 27 yard scamper to the Lions 10. Two back to back penalties moved the ball out to the Chelmsford 30 and from this point on a first down play Gustus again went to the air and completed his fifth pass in nine attempts during the afternoon third time to halfback Dick Gillis who scampered into the end zone at 7:58 thus completing a three touchdown scoring spree in two minutes and six seconds to ice the fifth victory of the season.

Both teams played strong defensive ball during the game. Team efforts were the key with a few

A PASS INTERCEPT: By Mike Curran, Defensive Back, was followed by a 27 yard run to the 60 yard line, in the last quarter. Curran was stopped by Chelmsford's QB Scoggins.

CATALANO PASS TO JEPSON: Resulted in a gain of four yards, in the closing minutes of the game.

individual standouts. Junior half-back Dick Gillis turned in an excellent two way performance for the Wildcats and Mike Esposito broke the conference touchdown record with his two scores. Espo now has 32 career touchdowns and 94 points for this current season. Late in the game junior guard Bill Delisle injured his knee and maybe lost for the next two ball games.

The freshmen won their sixth in a row with a 14-0 victory over the Chelmsford frosh last Friday. Mark Jepson, on a 3 yard plunge and John Gillis on an 8 yard run scored both touchdowns. On Monday afternoon the Jayvees were victimized by the Lions Jr Varsity, 20-6, and are now all even for the season at 2-2-2.

The three teams will play the Green Hornets of No Reading this weekend starting with the freshmen encounter at No Reading on Friday afternoon at 3:15. The varsity will host their crosstown rivals on Saturday afternoon with kickoff at 1:30 pm. Our Jayvees will travel to No Reading next Monday afternoon with hopes of starting a new winning streak.

Soccer

The boys continued on their winning ways last week, as they shut out both Woburn and No Andover. On Tuesday afternoon, behind the outstanding goal tending of Frank Leverone, the Wildcats won, 2-0. Co-captain John Kalkanajian scored the initial goal of the game and his third of the season on a penalty kick at 7:30 of the first period. The other captain senior left wing Dave Stone booted home his first season goal at 7:04 of the final period with assists to juniors Tom Beaton and Harry Latta to ice the third victory of the season for the Wildcats. The boys outshot the Woburn Team by a 28-10 margin in this game.

On Thursday the varsity did not play its exceptionally fine shooting ball game and were held to a mere goal by Frank Simmons at 12 of the second period. He was assisted by Jason Platt, Bob Masters and Bill Cole. Leverone had to make only three saves in the sloppy ball game. The Wildcats had 16 shots on the Scarlet Knight goalie in the ball game.

The team closes out the season this afternoon as they will host the Green Hornets of No Reading at the North Intermediate School with the kickoff listed for 3:15 pm.

Field Hockey

The varsity was out played by Andover last Tuesday to the tune of 2-0. An all round capable team effort was just too much for the varsity club to handle. The loss ended the conference phase of the schedule and the varsity finished with 1-2-5 record. The Jayvees hit the win column once again on a score by left wing Sandi McNevin and all round fine team support.

On Thursday afternoon, the varsity lost its second encounter with Woburn this season this time being shut out, 2-0. The Jayvees also were whitewashed to the tune of 2-0. The teams played their final game of the season on Tuesday hosting the girls from Bedford High.

In last Wednesday's nine team conference meet at Andover, the Wildcats ran a very strong third behind Billerica and No Andover. Lance Walden won a plaque for his ninth place finish. Cliff Friberg, Jim Lynch, Rick Keane and Kevin McCormick were other varsity scorers as more than a dozen men in the race broke the course record.

Pop Warner Football

The B Chargers took it on the chin on Sunday, being downed 22-6 but they weren't outplayed. It was a lot better game than the score showed. Dan Hurley ran the ball all over the field, but bad breaks hurt the team effort.

Wilmington scored first in the second period on a series of plays by Hurley and a pass to Duffy. Peabody then hammered over the tally. The conversion failed.

Lynn came back on a pass interception and then drove down field on passes to score. The conversion was good and Lynn led 8-6 at the half.

Lynn tallied once in each of the two remaining periods, mainly on passes, Wilmington's strength was mainly on ground attacks, but it just wasn't enough, so the B Chargers went down to a 22-6 loss. The C Chargers fared a little better but still lost 12-6 in a hard fought battle.

Each team scored in the first quarter and it was a tie game until the fourth quarter when Lynn intercepted a pass and galloped 40 yards for a score. The conversion failed and Lynn walked off with the Win.

Both teams played well and Lynn earned the victories the hard way.

The next game is on Sunday at home and Wilmington entertains Reading in what should be a thumping game. Kickoff is at 1:30 See you there!

Pop Warner Flag Football

In a game billed as a battle for first place between two evenly matched teams, the final score was indicative of their closeness.

For the third week in a row, the Mad Dogs came battling back and earned a 6-6 tie with the Hackers. The tie left the Mad Dogs on top of the heap with a 3-0-1 mark, while the Hackers remained a game behind at 2-1-1.

Early in the second half, Chris Rounds of the Hackers threw his tenth touchdown pass of the season to Dave Maloney. Dave made a juggling catch of the deflected pass into the end zone. The Hackers 6-0 lead held up until there were only five plays left in the game.

Here, Dave Rounds swept right end, and avoided three would-be-tacklers and sped across the field for the tying score. The 6-6 tie was a tribute to the fine defensive work of both teams.

The second game of the evening saw the Chargers get back on the winning road with a 31-13 victory over the winless Wildcats. The Chargers are now 2-2, only the half game out of second place. While the wildcats dropped to 0-4 The Chargers were led again by Steve Callahan with 7 points, followed by Mark Cobb, Tom Marden Mike Sughrue and Paul Keough with 6 each.

For the Wildcats, it was Mike Tower scoring all 13. The Wildcats are down but not out. They have showed steady improvement each week, under the direction of their young coach, Steve Tower, and should not be taken lightly in the upcoming playoffs.

This Saturday, in the next to last week of regular season play the Hackers take on the Wildcats at 6 pm, and the Chargers hope to upend the high-flying Mad Dogs at 7 pm.

The Sergeants were Pop Eyed

Richard Jenkins, convicted of robbing the Elia Country Market in North Wilmington, submitted his resignation from the Wilmington Police Department Monday, and it was accepted.

Jenkins was convicted in Woburn Court, on October 30th. Justice Francis Cullen interrupted the session after hearing the testimony of the second witness, to find Jenkins guilty. Jenkins had refused to plead guilty.

Sentence was suspended pending good behaviour - a not uncommon way of handling first offenders in court.

The real story of his arrest is that of the four Wilmington Police Sergeants who had watched the theft being committed. They were, to use a phrase 'Pop Eyed'.

John Elia had complained of hams and other foodstuffs disappearing, and the first thought was that perhaps some of his employees were responsible. After some thought and discussion the Chief of Police decided to have the store placed under surveillance, and the four Wilmington Police sergeants were chosen for the job.

They were given small walkie-talkie radios, with a wave length other than that customarily used by the Wilmington police, in case the burglar was tuned in on the Wilmington police radio frequency.

One sergeant was put on the roof of each of four buildings which surround the Elia Market, and the long night vigil began.

Jenkins, two days before, had bought an old Cadillac, from Town Manager Sterling Morris. He had a part time avocation of fixing old cars, and was, apparently, going to fix up Morris' old one horse shay.

Jenkins had been assigned to a foot patrol of North Wilmington, Police Cruiser 31 having engine trouble, and Cruiser 32 still waiting for a new front end. He was there all evening, and he had parked the old Cadillac near Elia's store.

So - about 11 pm, the watching detectives heard a noise at the old Cadillac. They couldn't see who it was, but they could hear noises. They were just about to descend from the roof tops, when another car drove up - a car new to them. It happened to belong to a man who did have business in the neighborhood - but who had just had his car painted.

This gave the police something else to think about - who was the stranger?? A message was flashed to police headquarters to have the strange car checked out.

Jenkins showed up, and talked with the driver of the car - and then noticed a car in the North Wilmington parking lot. Excusing himself, he went to investigate the car, and the 'stranger' drove off.

It was when he returned, and after the police on the roof tops had learned that the 'stranger' and his car had legitimate business in the neighborhood, that the police got going, and climbed down off the roofs.

In the trunk of the Town Manager's old Cadillac were several hams, and there was Officer Jenkins, in uniform.

John Elia, who had been driving the car that Jenkins went to investigate, showed up at that moment. He too, was waiting for the denouement.

John identified the hams. He had made marks on all the hams and those same marks were on the hams that were found in Morris' old Cadillac.

The Chief of Police was called, and it was he who issued the order for the arrest of Jenkins, and it wasn't until then that the police learned that the Cadillac did not belong to Wilmington's Town Manager!
